HAVE YOU HAD AN ACCIDENT ABROAD?

If you have been injured in an accident while on holiday or travelling or working abroad, you could be entitled to compensation. Fentons Solicitors LLP has a specialist department experienced in handling claims arising from injuries or illness sustained while travelling in foreign countries.

Tour operators have a duty to ensure that their customers' accommodation is safe and hygienic, and that they are not unnecessarily exposed to the risk of injury, disease, or infection. ■ Illness

Contracting food poisoning or other illnesses while in a foreign country can be particularly distressing. But if that illness is caused by poor hygiene standards or a lack of care on the part of a tour operator, our experts could help you make a claim for compensation.
